

Old Herborn University

Dear Visitor of the Old Herborn University Website!

Corona. Corona. Still going strong. The pandemic has dramatic effects. The situation around the globe is worrisome. It is still high tide.

Most international scientific symposia were cancelled for 2021. It is with great sorrow, that I have to announce the cancelling of an Old Herborn University Seminar again in the year following 2020. The Seminar cannot be held in 2021 due to the great uncertainty with the course of Corona.

We shall postpone the seminar until 2022, and nourish the hope that all invited speakers will be able to attend this notable meeting with its topic "The Biological Empire of the Bacteriophage" next year. Our invitation is still valid! The 34th Old Herborn Seminar is now planned for June 23, 2022, with its public presentations.

I am grateful for your generous understanding of this truly very special situation. I would be happy for all invited speakers to be able to attend this meeting with its most important topic next year.

We all would be happy to welcome you next year in Herborn!

With very best personal wishes and kindest regards, also on behalf of the seminar moderators. Stay healthy!

Yours cordially,

Volker Rusch
